APPLICATION ADVICE

Considering the following points will strengthen your case for an interview:

- Stand out from the rest of the applicants.
 - Hundreds of people apply each year for the opportunity to walk the Kokoda Track. Including in your application that you have 2 brothers and a sister and enjoy going out is not going to make your name stand out from all the other applications.
- Be creative, and tell us why you deserve this amazing opportunity.
 - What are your hopes and dreams?
- While there is no single factor that will ensure you are selected for an interview, your contribution to the community will certainly influence the decision of the selection panel.
 - Tell us about your community, and why it is important to you.
 - Are you a member of a charity, sporting group, club, not for profit, etc?
 - Are/ were you involved in school projects which have assisted your school, community, the disadvantaged?
- Do you have a connection to Kokoda or the Australian Defence Force?
- Take the time to do a little research about Kokoda. It may benefit your application; it will definitely benefit you personally.
- Do some research about registered clubs. It may be a way of differentiating yourself from other applicants.
- The physical element of walking the Kokoda Track is obvious. Listing your reason for wanting to walk the Track as “wanting to test myself physically” is not going to get you selected. If you simply want a physical challenge, run a marathon. Walking the Kokoda Track is so much more than just a 10 day walk through the bush.
- Your application should be legible. Eight percent of applications last year could not be read and were automatically rejected.
 - You can rewrite your answers to the two questions on a separate piece of paper if you wish. However this page should be no more than 1 A4 page.
- If you have a question, you should be the person who asks it. Don't rely on your parents or grandparents or school teacher to ask questions on your behalf. We are interested in you, not your mother or father.
- Make sure you include your mobile number and email address.
- Applications submitted after the deadline will not be considered. It's simply not fair for those who made the deadline.
